NUMBER 10

JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 9 Thurs. Apr. 20 1939, No. 12
Jock McIntyre, Editor

Our guess is that the confidence placed in the new Village Council has not been misplaced judging by the new sidewalks, the beautifying of the park and the nice smooth streets.

Our Sommers is the new proud possessor of one of those good W 40 McGray Tractors.

Our heart sympathies go out to the Ellis family in their bereavement.

Did you know that two out of every five cars on the road today in Canada and U.S. are General Motors Products? There is a reason.

The natives were all out looking at the partial eclipse of the sun on Wednesday and Don Campbell made the week crack that he thought there was something wrong with that d—sun.

Our spring paint sale is on and it includes both lines, we handle Marshall walls and Martin-Somers.

Art Jopling is much improved and expects to be back home in a few days. We are glad to see you back again Art.

Why crank that car any longer when you can buy a 5 volt 13 plate 1937 for as little as we would charge you for a new one.

Doc Cool had the misfortune to lose all of his small tools, his gas pump and a drum of gas the other night. His only consolation being that the thieves missed four gears recently repaired by Doc McIntyre and in first class condition.

The municipal road outfit was pulled out the other day with as usual a very capable crew under Adam Ferguson's supervision. So it is going to be smooth sailing for all.

In used machinery buys that will interest you we have one 22-hp McGray Tractor, one 15-hp McGray Tractor and one 20-hp McGray high wheel double disc drill.

Bill and Jack Gorshe are back on the job and George Taylor is thinking about going out to be a cook for them as we hear.

Wm. Penn and North Star oils and greases "Still the Best" You should wonder around some late afternoon to Bob Maxwell and look over his milk farm. Bob will be glad to show you his farm.

Local Girl Obtains Outstanding Results

Miss Edna Orr, daughter of Postmaster and teacher at Barnwell school obtained outstanding results at the festival held in Taber last week. The class taught by Miss Orr secured first for their play, while in the boys solo, grade 4, first and second place went to Barnwell school as did the grade 4 elocution, and in grade 3, first prize for elocution. There was strong competition at the festival and such a record by one school reflects much credit upon the teacher, Miss Orr.

IMPRESSION GAINED IN GERMANY, ITALY

At the monthly meeting of the Champion Women's institute held at the home of Mrs. R. L. Baker, the feature was the address by Miss Clark, B.A., who told of her visit abroad.

The society decided to sponsor a picture show in the near future, also to donate $10 to the committee in charge of the sending of children to Calgary to see the King and Queen.

Mrs. Stephenson assisted the hostess in serving a very sumptuous tea. Miss Ruby Alder was one of the guests.

Miss Clarkson had gone to France to visit the grave of her father who was killed in action in 1915. Mention was made of the careful manner the graves are kept. She told of the beauties to be found in Paris, scenic and cultural. In Paris they still worship Napoleon.

Miss Clarkson also visited Italy and Germany. Premier Mussolini is building the marshes near Rome and teaching the women to be better housekeepers. Germany was strikingly clean and there seemed to be plenty of good food.

Mrs. Margaret Bath, sang "My Dream of Love" accompanied by Miss V. Farmer.

EARLY SETTLER PASSES JAMES ELLIS DIED SUNDAY

WAS Early Settler Here Outstanding Athlete in Scotland

In the death of James Ellis, Champion district has lost another of its early settlers, one who was not only devoted to his home but found time to give encouragement to others.

Funeral service was held on Tuesday Rev. Peter Dawson, conducting, assisted by the local Masonic order.

Rev. Mr. Dawson making touching references to the life of the departed. The choir assisted in the service and Mrs. C. Taylor and Mrs. J. Mack sang an appropriate duet.

Burial was at the Champion cemetery where another brother is buried. While he has been ill for the past six weeks he had rallied and death came very sudden Sunday evening.

Born in Bathgate, Scotland, Mr. Ellis was in his 72 year. In Scotland he was associated with the mining industry which he again entered when he came to Champion, managing a local coal mine.

Deceased was an outstanding athlete in his younger days and many medals, cups and awards at his late home told of his prowess in the field of sport. By a coincidence, an old country paper reaching here recently told of the death of another of the football team which had won fame in Scotland in 1880, and mentioned that Mr. Ellis now in Canada, was the last surviving member of the Mossend Swiss team.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the Masonic order being a degree Mason in the old land.

Believe to Scottish type, Mr. Ellis was friendly and considerate to others though the community mourns a valued citizen who always endeavored to give a helping hand to those less fortunate.

Besides a wife, one brother and one sister, he is mourned by one son, councillor W. J. Ellis and two daughters Mrs. Ed. Carlson and Mrs. D. Chappell of Calgary.

George Campbell, A. Hamilton, J. Bozarth and A. Haug attended the banquet at Stavelo on Tuesday night in honor of Alex. Allen who leaves shortly to take up residence at Nelson. Mr. Allen who is well known in this district was presented with a gift.

UNITY PARTY ORGANIZING HERE

Announcement is made by officers of the Little Bow Unity Association of the organization meetings to be held in the various polling sub divisions, for the purpose of electing delegates to the nomination convention to be held shortly.

Success at election time is unquestionably good organization as well as a worthy cause, and this is one reason why efforts are being made to line up the communities now instead of waiting until the date of election is announced.

The Social Credit group are expected to get busy shortly and have district meeting to plan for the election while the Federal, Liberals and Conservatives are already active for the Federal election. The Liberals have a man in the field, Mr. McKenna of Pincher Creek, and campaign work has already been done by this party looking forward to the election while the Conservatives may also place a candidate before the electors.

A marriage of interest was solemnized last Saturday when Theresa Klein, daughter of John Klein became the bride of Peter Boden. Rev. Mr. Kroening of Calgary officiated and the couple were attended by the brides sister, Miss Eschbach Klein as bridesmaid and E. Erickson of Nobleford as best man. A miscellaneous shower was held for the popular bride at the home of Mrs. Sissons last week.

Mrs. Peter Dawson and family have arrived from Edmonton where they spent the winter with the Hon. Mr. Dowson.

CHAPTER VIII.

Soon they were talking over the meadow, and Sarah Lynn saw with a warm uprush of gratitude that it had been levelled into the semblance of a decent landing-field. Great-great-uncle Lynn, going to that extra expense first that she might see her Ladybug first in the setting of old memories.

The plane turned, disclosed the brownish grass, rose serenely into the air. Instantly, Sarah Lynn knew it was her own, that she had never flown before! Turning trilled to all earlier thrills, she realized that a cabin-place out in two the kingdom and the power of the glory. Now, with nothing between her and the sky, she was really flying!

"My first flight in my own plane!" she told herself rapturously. "I can never be as happy as this again if I live to be a hundred!"

She wished passionately that there were more hours instead of minutes before her, but the Gipsy Moth devalued the miles and minutes and came daintily down at the San Jose airport.

Men came running with grinning, friendly faces to greet her, the mechanics, helpers, attendants. There was a youth with a camera which clicked as Sarah Lynn stepped to the ground.

"Well, Miss Dana, how do you like your boat? Slack job, huh? Going to fly her yourself?" He came closer. "Mind if I get one of you and Gunnar Thorwald together?" the reporter persisted. "Shaking hands, huh? Sort of 'Welcome to the sky!'"

"Gunnar Thorwald isn't here," she began coolly, but then she saw him coming toward her. "Oh, please, we'd rather not!" She kept her head down.

The Norwegian came reared then. "I drive you home," he said without preliminary greeting.

The young newspaper man managed a moustache while they got to Jordan's car. Thanks a lot!" he called out, his nose looking pretty triumphant.

They rolled out of the field and down the road.

"Oh, I forgot!" Sarah Lynn said. "Great-great-uncle Lynn is coming for me! I'm afraid I must wait for them."

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

If you suffer from nervousness, headache, backache, indigestion, or any of the many ailments which women are so prone to suffer from, you will find Dr. Pierce's Kidney and Bladder Cure of great benefit. It relieves the discomforts of the urinary system, cures the most distressing cases of catarrh, and restores the system to its normal state. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is sold by all druggists. Write for a free copy of the book "The Urinary System," which contains full directions for its use.

"We meet them on the road!"
"Yes, we could."
"You must go quickly home!"
"Oh, no," she discarded the happy birthday plans at which her mother had archly hinted. "You mean—"

"I have the earnest wish to see those large trees!"
A muscle twitched in her cheek. "Then we'll go to Felton, over the mountains, an hour, an hour and a half."

"No matter. I am free."
"And she was free! Her own plane, her own life!"
"So now," he was saying gravely, "you will fly."

"Now I will fly."
"That is good."
They met the car from Danavale and Sarah Lynn jumped out and ran to explain. "Oh, you've brought Lightning!"

"We had to," Lynn Dana told her. "She was having refined hysterics. Better take her along. Till telephone your mother." They waited, watching contentedly, until the fliers were out of sight.

Lightning, crunched at Sarah Lynn's feet, making small sounds. "Mountains I like; large trees I like," Gunnar said, coming out of one silence and going into another.

She nodded without speaking, and the companionable silence held, none on mounting mile.

Retrived were outlined against the heavy blue sky.

"So, now you fly," Gunnar said again, as usual. "So, now, also, we are friends!"

They were now friends, she told him with a gravity matching his own, and comfortable chinks of silence enveloped them again.

But a sound of pure astonishment escaped him at sight of the first forest giant.

"But—I have never believed it could be so!"
"Wait!" she pledged him happily. "That is only the prelude to the great ones!"

He settled back in his seat with a long, relaxing sigh of contentment. "Large trees I like," he said, "and mountains and the sea, and songs and the most I like the sky. Also I like a friend."

Virtually A Prisoner In His Own Land

Picturesque. A character who might have stepped out of the Old Testament, the Nizam of Hyderabad conducts one of the strangest reigns of modern time; rule of the richest man in the world.

From the sultry, showy place in the city of Hyderabad, capital of this south central Indian province, the Nizam wields his power over some 14,000,000 subjects. In a huge red and gold room he directs the routine business of his native state, reaching decisions quickly. He attends his official duties with utter lack of ceremony. He wears the simplest attire. On state occasions, however, he stages vast Oriental splendours.

Fabulously wealthy, the Nizam is said to be worth $600,000,000. Yet he is virtually a prisoner in his own land. Ancient customs decree that he shall never leave Indian shores. Actually he never leaves the capital city, even during the tourist summer.

He owns six beautiful palaces, yet he prefers to dwell in the smallest. He has a fleet of 50 limousines, yet he often travels about in an old touring car of 1927 make. He collects the bulk of his fortune from his back works of public welfare, model villages, hospitals and child health centers. As a native state, Hyderabad has its own stamp.
